

2014 Conference on Language, Society, and Culture

Theme:
Storytelling and Academic Discourse

Friday, March 7, 2014
At Bronx Community College
8:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

North Hall and Library [NL], Rooms 130 and 131
Roscoe Brown Student Center [BC], Room 211

How do we conceive academic discourse? How do our conceptions inform our teaching practices? Are academic discourse and storytelling compatible? If so, what are some points of contact, and how can they benefit our students? How do we take into account the linguistic and cultural diversity of our students as we bring academic discourse—and possibly storytelling—into our classrooms?

Guest Speaker: Rebecca Mlynarczyk

For the schedule and the latest information contact Dr. Andrea Parmegiani, Conference Chair, at andrea.parmegiani@bcc.cuny.edu

Sponsored by:
Bronx Community College

Co-Sponsors:
New York State Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (NYS TESOL)
International Linguistics Association (ILA)
ESL Discipline Council
English Discipline Council